Group 4 Securicor in safe hands with BT Fleet

BT Fleet has announced that it has won a major contract, following the decision by Group 4 Securicor (G4S) to switch the maintenance management of its Cash Services commercial vehicle fleet from Fraikin to BT Fleet.

From 1st October, BT Fleet will provide fleet management and maintenance services for the fleet of 1,950 vehicles, including breakdown services through its partner - the AA.

BT Fleet managing director Janet Entwistle said: "This is great news for us. Winning one of the largest contracts in our sector reinforces our reputation and position in the marketplace for providing services for 'mission critical' fleets. Along with some of our other recent contract wins, this also moves us closer towards achieving our vision of being the leading fleet services provider for fleet operators in the UK."

As part of the tender review process, the G4S team made several site visits to BT Fleet's garage network and head office. G4S operations director Colin Woodland said: "The professionalism, skill and experience of the BT Fleet team was one of the key reasons we decided to award the contract to BT Fleet."

"The nature of the service G4S provides to its customers means that minimising vehicle downtime is fundamental to our business. BT Fleet was one of the very few providers in the sector we felt truly understood our business and could meet our requirements."

Janet added: "These are very exciting times for BT Fleet and we are working closely with G4S to ensure a smooth transition. Our team is dedicated and passionate about customer service and are relishing the opportunities this win is creating. We are looking forward to the additional benefits and enhanced services this contract will bring for all of our customers."
